- inspire inquiry
- transfer knowledge to real life
- facilitate student resilience, confidence and critical thinking.

"From interdisciplinary teaching, assessment, curriculum and instruction to conceptual inquiry and concept-based teaching tasks, the course has developed my knowledge and experience of what it means to foster internationally-minded education."

Take your school further

When you hire IB certificate holders, the benefits extend beyond the classroom. IB-certified educators:

- are prepared to implement one or more IB programmes from the moment they join your school
- bring international perspectives and an inquiry-based educational approach
- give you a competitive advantage by keeping valuable professional development funds in your budget (certificate holders are not required to attend a category 1 workshop)
- inspire higher-order thinking, reflection and questioning
- collaborate with colleagues within the school and at IB events to continually improve student learning
- bring innovative approaches to leadership that transcend boundaries.

"I thoroughly enjoyed this fruitful learning experience and have already started implementing much of it in my teaching learning process as well. This program has given me a deeper insight into the IB principles and philosophy and has helped me understand the significance of international mindedness, intercultural understanding, inquiry, collaborative work, differentiation and reflective practice."

IB certificates in teaching and learning

THE INTERNATIONAL SYMBOL OF EXCELLENCE

IB-certified educators bring a foundation in research to any role in your school. They gain certification in two areas:

The IB certificate in teaching and learning equips teachers with the principles and practices associated with the Primary Years, Middle Years and Diploma and Career-related Programmes. These teachers are reflective practitioners and researchers.

The IB advanced certificate in teaching and learning research equips teachers for rigorous, systematic investigative work. These teachers advance schools' curriculum development, pedagogy and assessment.

IB certificates in leadership

INSPIRING LEADERS WHO MAKE A DIFFERENCE

IB-certified leaders support school communities that want to implement and sustain IB programmes or become authorized IB World Schools. They excel in two areas of leadership development:

The IB certificate in leadership practice develops educators and administrators who are prepared to take on leadership responsibilities and assist in guiding a school through IB authorization, implementation and beyond.

The IB advanced certificate in leadership research empowers educators and administrators with deep capacities in rigorous investigative work and a profound understanding of IB leadership responsibilities and capabilities.
